The Summer School is open to a maximum of 30 undergraduate and/or postgraduate students and/or lawyers for each module, who want to approach for the first time or improve their knowledge of the theory and practice of the ADR world, also in view of a possible career in the field of international dispute resolution.

The Summer School (structured in two modules, on international arbitration and mediation respectively) is characterized by theoretical lessons as well as practical and interactive seminars and workshops (including advocacy) all held in English. The faculty members are well known academics, members of important arbitral institutions and highly respected professionals with remarkable experience in the field of domestic and international dispute resolution.

Very good knowledge of written and spoken English is an essential requirement to be admitted to the Summer School. The candidates should send their CV in English (max 2 pages) to summerschoolmedarb@unimi.it on or before Friday, 15 July 2011. Undergraduate, postgraduate students and trainee lawyers are also required to send the list of their University exams with marks.

Summer School fees (which cover tuition, educational material, room and board at Palazzo Feltrinelli) are as follows:

	both modules on int'l arbitration and mediation	single module
for Lawyers	euro 2.800	euro 1.800
for Postgraduate Students and Trainee Lawyers	euro 1.500	euro 1.000
for Undergraduate Students	euro 1.300	euro 800

Two fee waivers will be offered to undergraduate or postgraduate students who will submit a motivation statement and a letter of recommendation.
